No member of the Appeals Panel may have a direct interest in the candidate's case as an examiner, compiler or moderator for the candidate's examination that is the subject of the appeal.
- 20.3 A candidate wishing to appeal against the result of their examination may only do so on the grounds indicated below:
- a. that the examination had not been conducted in accordance with the examinations procedure of the Institute such that the result may have been adversely affected;
 - b. that the candidate believed that their performance in the examination had been materially impaired by ill health or other circumstances which the candidate had been unable, for valid reasons, to divulge to the Operations Manager or to an examiner on the day of the examination; or
 - c. that the candidate had reason to believe that one or more of the examiners was prejudiced or biased against them.

The candidate shall within 28 days from the date of notification of results give notice in writing to the Co-ordinating Chair of the Appeals Panel, setting out the full details of their appeal and the reasons why one or more of the grounds indicated above were met.

An appeal will only be deemed valid for consideration when based on one or more of the above grounds.

- 20.4 The appropriate fee, details of which are available from the Operations Manager, must be paid in full at the time the appeal is made.
- 20.5 The remit of the Appeals Panel is to consider whether any of the grounds as stipulated in 20.3 above have been demonstrably met, and whether judgements made were consistent, fair and applied correctly. Its remit does not extend to considering the academic judgement of examiners or other issues of assessment.
- The Panel may invite the views of the respective Chief Examiner and other examiners, compilers and moderators, and may call for all relevant documentation from any relevant source as it deems necessary.
- 20.6 The decision of the Appeals Panel on whether or not the appeal is upheld shall be final and shall not be subject to further appeal or challenge.

USE OF LOGOS

- 21.1 The Institute's logo shall be determined by the Board, who may also amend or change the logo from time to time. The logo should wherever practicable be used on all documents relating to the Institute's business. This is the Company logo, for Institute office use only. Any other use of the logo shall be at the discretion of the Board of Directors. Special versions of the logo exist for Institute Ordinary Members, Associates, Affiliates and Training Providers to use free of charge in their own publicity.
- 21.2 The use of the Blue, Green and White Badge images shall be at the discretion of the Board.
- 21.3 The Blue, Green and White Badge images and the wording 'Institute of Tourist Guiding' have been trademarked by the Institute. They are Collective Trade Marks, which means they may be used by the individual badge-holders on their personal publicity material and stationery. The individual badge-holders do not have to be Institute members in order to be allowed to use the images in this way.

- 21.4 The Intellectual Property Office (IPO) requires the Institute to keep a database of all individuals entitled to use the badge images. The IPO also requires the wording 'Institute of Tourist Guiding' to be clearly visible on the rim of the badge image or, failing that, the website page or stationery must indicate that the image is the Collective Trade Mark of the Institute of Tourist Guiding.
- 21.5 Other organizations such as private companies, tourist offices or groups of guides (whether formal guide associations or informal groups with a website/leaflet advertising the services of more than one guide) may only use the Blue, Green and White Badge images on their publicity material or stationery if they have signed a Licence Agreement with the Institute. There may be a charge for this Licence.
- 21.6 The Institute owns the intellectual property rights in its trademarked Blue, Green and White Badge images. It is an infringement of those rights to produce or use a badge image sufficiently similar that it may be passed off as the Institute's trademarked images. Such infringement may ultimately lead to legal action by the Institute.

ANNEX I - REVALIDATION POLICY

In order to ensure the maintenance of high standards in tourist guiding, the Institute's Bye Laws have always stated that guides wishing to rejoin the Institute after a period of years may need to revalidate their original qualification, e.g. through further examination. The specific requirements for individual cases have been determined at the discretion of the Board. The Board's concern has always been to ensure that those who have been away from the profession for a period without maintaining Institute membership (and therefore contact with their professional body) have retained the knowledge and skills required as a professional tourist guide.

However, with the introduction in April 2012 of the new Career Break and Retired membership categories, the Board considered it necessary to set out in detail the policy for revalidation of Institute qualifications, and published this to the full membership. These details were also communicated to all newly qualified tourist guides when they joined the Institute and to guiding associations throughout the country.

This revised policy came into effect on 1 July 2016 and applies to guides who:

- (a) for a period of three or more years have chosen to join the Career Break or Retired membership categories and who subsequently wish to return to active tourist guiding; or
- (b) have allowed their membership of the Institute to lapse or who have never joined the Institute and who now wish to join as Members, Associates or Affiliates.

The revalidation policy will not apply to guides who

- (a) return to full membership after fewer than three years as Career Break or Retired members; or
- (b) join the Institute within three years of achieving their qualification; or
- (c) rejoin the Institute as full members within three years of allowing their membership to lapse.

The revalidation requirements for those returning to full membership are as follows:

ORDINARY MEMBER

After 3 and up to 6 years without full Institute Membership:

- For Career Break/Retired Members or those who have been absent from active tourist guiding: requirement to pass one practical examination (probably the coach);
- For guides who have none the less remained in active tourist guiding, evidence should be provided that they have been working throughout the period (usually in the form of at least two relevant references from tour operators or other travel trade companies);
- 6-10 years without full Institute Membership: requirement to pass three examinations: one written, one major site and one coach examination;

Over 10 years without full Institute Membership: requirement to pass all examinations including the Tour Planning Project.

ASSOCIATE

After 3 and up to 6 years without full Institute Associate membership:

- For Career Break/Retired Associates or those who have been absent from active tourist guiding: requirement to pass one practical examination (probably the walk);
- For guides who have none the less remained in active tourist guiding, evidence should be provided that they have been working throughout the period (usually in the form of at least two references from tour operators or other travel trade companies).

6-10 years without full Institute Associate membership: requirement to pass two examinations: one written, one practical;

Over 10 years without full Institute Associate membership: requirement to pass all examinations including the Tour Planning Project.

AFFILIATE

After 3 and up to 10 years as a Career Break/Retired Affiliate or without full Institute Affiliate membership: re-instatement upon recommendation of site of qualification;

Over 10 years: requirement to pass both examinations.

The revalidation policy came into effect at the start of the Institute membership year, 1st April 2013.

When examination is required to achieve revalidation, fees will apply (payable by the guide) and examinations will usually be offered as part of the Institute's existing examination schedule.

- d. Withdrawal of Institute photo card and guide badge.

ANNEX 3 - PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT & DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE

Objective

The purpose of this procedure is to ensure that all tourist guides, who are accredited by the Institute of Tourist Guiding [tourist guides], as well as tour operators, staff at tourism sites, members of the public using tourist guiding services, and any other stakeholders are aware of the Code of Professional Conduct of the Institute of Tourist Guiding [the Institute] and the proper channels through which allegations of professional misconduct should be raised, investigated and dealt with.

It is the aim of the Institute to investigate and deal quickly, fairly and consistently with any allegations of unacceptable conduct or performance by tourist guides. The procedure is designed to help and encourage all tourist guides to achieve and maintain appropriate standards of conduct and job performance.

All allegations of misconduct will be referred initially to the Institute's Professional Conduct Committee (PCC). Any disciplinary action will be confirmed by the Institute's Board of Directors.

Policy

It is the policy of the Institute that all tourist guides must abide by the Code of Professional Conduct and that if disciplinary action has to be taken against tourist guides it should:

- only be undertaken after an investigation and a disciplinary interview have been carried out;
- be appropriate to the nature of the offence that has been committed; and
- be fair and also consistent with previous action in similar circumstances, provided that action proved to be appropriate.

Allegations of professional misconduct

Allegations of professional misconduct by tourist guides should be made in the first instance in writing to:

Professional Conduct Committee
Institute of Tourist Guiding
Coppergate House
16 Brune Street
London E1 7NJ

The PCC will review all allegations and determine whether there is a case to be answered. In the event that the Committee decides that there is no case to be answered, the Chair will provide a written response to the allegation explaining that no further action will be taken and providing an explanation supporting that decision.

Where the PCC determines that there is a case to be answered, an Investigating Officer, who will be a Director of the Institute, will be appointed by the PCC to deal with the allegation.

An initial response to the allegation will be given in writing within 14 days of receipt of the allegation.

If the allegation or complaint is dismissed after an initial investigation of the evidence provided, then the person or organisation making the allegation or complaint will be informed in writing of this decision. The Institute may or may not decide to inform the tourist guide in question about the allegation.

Investigations

The Investigating Officer will obtain details of the allegations in writing along with details of any witnesses. Such witnesses should be asked to provide a written statement of events.

The Investigating Officer will contact the tourist guide against whom the complaint/ allegation has been made and will inform them of the nature of the complaint. The Investigating Officer may choose to withhold the identity of the person making the complaint. The tourist guide will be invited to provide a written response to the allegations within 15 days and should be asked to identify any witnesses. These witnesses will also be asked to provide a written statement of events.

Taking into account all the evidence provided, the Investigating Officer will determine whether there is a case to answer in relation to the Institute's Code of Professional Conduct and, therefore, whether a disciplinary hearing should be convened. The Investigating Officer will provide a written report, along with a recommendation as to whether a disciplinary hearing should be convened, to the PCC within 30 days of informing the tourist guide concerned of the allegations.

The PCC will review the Investigating Officer's report and decide whether to call a disciplinary hearing, request additional investigation/information or whether to take no further action. The decision of the PCC should be made within 10 days of receiving the Investigating Officer's report.

If the PCC determines that there should be a hearing, the Chair will write to the tourist guide concerned asking them to attend a disciplinary hearing within 30 days. Every effort should be made to find a date for the hearing convenient to all relevant parties

Disciplinary Hearing

Tourist guides will not be disciplined without first being given the opportunity to state their side of the case at a disciplinary hearing. They will be given details of the complaint against them at least three working days before the hearing and will have the right to be accompanied by a guide colleague of their choice or an accredited trade union official. A disciplinary hearing may go ahead in their absence if they fail to attend on the agreed date.

A Disciplinary Hearing will be before a panel composed of two members of the PCC or Directors of the Institute who will review the complaint and any written evidence, and will then ask the tourist guide to provide their explanation. The person making the original complaint and any witnesses to the alleged incident should not attend the hearing.

The panel will make their decision within 2 days of the hearing and the Chair of the PCC will communicate their decision along with any disciplinary action in writing to the tourist guide concerned.

Disciplinary Action

There are four levels of disciplinary action available to the Institute depending on the seriousness of the offence; and/or whether a previous stage in the procedure has already been used.

○ Stage One – Verbal Warning

The guide will be advised by the Chair of the PCC that the warning constitutes the first formal stage of this procedure and a note of the verbal warning will be placed on record and remain in force for six months.

A verbal warning will be given in respect of a less serious offence, infringement or case of incapability.

○ Stage Two – Written Warning

A written warning will be sent to the guide by the Chair of the PCC for a more serious offence or if a further offence occurs while a previous offence remains on record.

A written warning will be forwarded to the guide and a copy kept on record for 12 months. Stage Three of the procedure may be considered if there is no satisfactory improvement.

○ Stage Three – Final Written Warning

A final written warning will be given to the guide in writing by the Chair of the PCC and will state that if the guide commits a further offence of misconduct accreditation will be withdrawn.

A Final Written Warning will be given following the use of Stage Two or without the use of Stage Two where the offence, infringement or case of incapability is of a more serious nature. A note will be placed on record and remain in force for 12 months.

○ Stage Four – Withdrawal of Accreditation

Withdrawal of accreditation will take place following further misconduct after a warning has been given under Stage Three of the procedure or, where the withdrawal of accreditation relates to incapability, inadequate or no improvement in performance, following a final written warning under Stage Three of the procedure.

A withdrawal of accreditation must be approved by the Institute's Board of Directors. Such decisions will be communicated to the British Guild of Tourist Guide and the Association of Tourist Guides so that they can update their membership data accordingly.

Once an accreditation has been withdrawn, the individual concerned may not re-apply to join the Institute. No individual will have their accreditation withdrawn for a first offence unless their conduct amounts to gross misconduct.

Offences which will lead to disciplinary action

Offences under the Disciplinary Procedures fall into three categories:

The following lists give examples of each of these categories and are not intended to be exclusive or exhaustive. Offences and cases of a similar nature will be dealt with by this procedure.
